

Four Rivers Watershed Sustainability Summit

Monday, March 27, 2017

8 am to 3:30 pm

Curriss Center

Murray State University

Small Ballroom (Third Floor) - Welcome and Seminars

Seminars will occur throughout the day following the schedule below.

Dance Lounge (Second Floor) - Educational Booths and Posters

Educational booths and posters will be on display throughout the day, but will be staffed during the break sessions indicated below.

8:15 Welcome

8:25 David White, Murray State University

What is different about reservoirs from an ecological perspective?

8:50 Shelly Morris, The Nature Conservancy

The Wetland Reserve Enhancement Partnership Program in Western Kentucky

9:15 Michael Flinn, Murray State University

What can we learn from an engineered stream? The restoration of Hatchery Creek

9:45 - 10:30 Break

Educational Booths and Posters, Dance Lounge

10:30 Tim Spier, Murray State University

The Silver Carp Menace: Asian Carp in Kentucky Lake

10:55 Jessica Morris, Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources

11:25 Bryan Clayton, Fluor Federal Services

Groundwater at the Paducah DOE Site

12:00 Lunch in the Stables

12:30 - 1:30 Break

Educational Booths and Posters, Dance Lounge

1:30 Luis Garcia, US Geological Survey, Hydrologic Technician

Overview of the USGS Streamgaging Network

1:55 Susan Hendricks, Murray State University

Three decades of change in Kentucky Lake: What we know, how we got here, and where we are going

2:20 Gary Stinchcomb, Murray State University

Contrasting effects of soil development and burial on hydrologic properties along western Kentucky rivers

2:50 - 3:30 Break

Educational Booths and Posters, Dance Lounge

Sponsored By:

